CONFIDENTIALITY MATTERS FOR RETENTION OFFICER

As a Retention officer my responsibilities may also include access to confidential information through:

- ☐ Participating in training and any additional training scheduled for retention officers during the year.
- ☐ Administration and reporting on the Early Warning System and other related faculty First Year Experience initiatives.
- ☐ Students sharing confidential information with me
- ☐ Recording minutes of meetings and actions that need to be taken.
- ☐ Regular attendance of and reporting to the First Year Experience Project meetings, Faculty Teaching and Learning committee meetings (and any other relevant committee meetings).
- ☐ Meeting with the First Year Experience Coordinator fortnightly.

CONFIDENTIALITY: As a Retention Officer, you may have access to confidential information such as student records, test results, students' progress in class and similar data. Students may also share information with you of a personal and sensitive nature. This may include verbal and / or written communication. This information must be kept confidential.

As the Retention Officer, I, the undersigned, pledge to fulfil the responsibilities listed above to the best of my ability. I understand that if I fail to do so, my appointment is subject to review and may be terminated.
